

In this issue

Issue 199 Spring 2019

Compass

17 Editorial

The study of rugs and textiles is HALI's raison d'être. HALI Editor Ben Evans considers the importance of this undertaking

28 Dialogue

ICOC Conference Tour of the Alpine Area; Minneapolis Institute of Art acquires Japanese textiles; Kilims in Ankara; Cultural gifts at The British Museum; ICOC XV in Amsterdam; Special edition of Sartirana; Moya Carey receives Award for Book of the Year in Iran

30 Diary

A guide to HALI London in June, plus our pick of the season's best exhibitions and auctions

33 Calendar

Worldwide listings for Spring

34 Thread of time

Rachel Meek

An Esfahan 'Polonaise' rug—one of two from Christie's London spring sale—is compared to medallion Ushak rug fragments in Berlin

36 Travellers' tales

Louise Vannier

Illuminating insight into the intricacies of Indian textiles from the recent HALI Tour

38 Profile

Katie Loux

The new Director and CEO of the Fine Arts Museums of San Francisco, Thomas Campbell, has as many questions as answers about the FAMSF's world-class textile collection

43 Comment

Ali Riza Tuna

Countering David Lantz's critique of the recent Textile Museum catalogue of Anatolian kilims from the Murad Megalli Collection

44 Anatomy of an object

Judi Achjadi

Layers of meaning in a batik cloth from western Java

64

Features

50 The king's batiks

Dale Carolyn Gluckman and Sarttarat Muddin

The Queen Sirikit Museum of Textiles exhibit of batik textiles collected on Java by King Chulalongkorn of Siam between 1871 and 1901

64 A living collection

Aaron Nejad

Bob Bell, who lives in the Cotswolds, is surrounded by an eclectic array of rugs

72 Naga textiles—past and present

Julia Nicholson and Faye Belsey

Textiles from Nagaland, northeastern India, in The Pitt Rivers Museum, Oxford

80 Moroccan carpets and modern art

Gebhart Blazek

Parallels between the artworks of classic modernism and Moroccan tribal carpets

86 Variations on a twelve-part theme

Gunnar Nilsson

Röllakan: Sweden's distinctive, multi-purpose flatwoven folk textiles

38

86

100

Reviews

Marketplace

94
A portrait of Iran

Fuchsia Hart
The Rietberg Museum's textile-rich 'Shades of Elegance' features the arts of Qajar Persia

98
Shining a light on Shiraz

Hadi Maktabi
A rare Persian tribal rug with an unambiguous inwoven date prior to the 'Revival' period

100
An eye for the tigers

Stephanie Douglas
Exclusive rugs designed by well-known contemporary artists for a charity initiative take the tiger and tiger rugs as inspiration

104
The legend, the looting and the legacy

Jonathan Hope
The Asian Civilisations Museum in Singapore invites reassessment of Stamford Raffles

108
Exhibition reviews

'Dressed with Distinction: Garments from Ottoman Syria' at The Fowler Museum at UCLA; 'Veiled, Unveiled! The Headscarf' at Weltmuseum Wien, Vienna

113
Conference reviews

The Mellon Symposium 'Textiles from the Silk Road in Museum Collections—Scientific Investigations and Conservation Challenges' at the British Museum

114
Book reviews

Textiles of Japan: The Thomas Murray Collection by Thomas Murray and Virginia Soenksen, with an introduction by Anna Jackson, reviewed by Fiona Kerlogue; The Handmade Carpet: A Comprehensive Guide to Contemporary Rugs by Fritz Langauer and Ernst Swietly, reviewed by Michael Buddeberg

118
Auctions

Rippon Boswell's latest single-owner sale 'Poppmeier Part II' reviewed by Birgit Voß

123
Fairs

The European Fine Art Fair (TEFAF) Maastricht; London Antique Rug & Textile Art Fair (LARTA); San Francisco Tribal and Textile Art Show

129
Auction price guide

Five Khotan 'RKO' design rugs came under the hammer in London and Boston last quarter; plus we report on results for a selection of pieces from the collections of Hans König, Ronnie Newman and Carmen Thyssen-Bornemisza

144
Last page

A current exhibition at LACMA is testament to the universal appeal of Central Asian silk ikat

