

TABLE OF CONTENTS

FOREWORD TO THE SECOND EDITION	vii
ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS	ix
PERSONAL INTRODUCTION	x
1. THE ROLE OF THE COSTUME DESIGNER IN FILM AND TELEVISION	1
Union definitions and job descriptions.
2. GETTING IN THE BUSINESS	13
Strategies and concerns.
3. THE JOB INTERVIEW	19
Strategies.
4. THE DEAL	23
Basic deal points.
5. PROGRAMMING AND FIRST PRESENTATIONS	27
Getting a direction — presenting a concept.
6. SETTING UP THE DEPARTMENT	31
Working together. Costume Designer/Supervisor. Setting up a department calendar.
7. SCRIPT BREAKDOWN	35
Reading the script for department requirements.
8. THE BUDGET PACKAGE	47
Assembling a budget package for production.
9. COSTUME DESIGN	69
Breaking down the script for Designers, Design theory, Illustrating the drama, Creating character, Manufacture.
10. SPECIALTY COSTUMES	87
11. COLOR THEORY	91
12. SKETCHING	97

13. PRODUCTION MEETINGS	111
The relationship between "Wardrobe" and every other department. (Nobody likes surprises).
14. ACCUMULATING COSTUMES	123
Developing an angle of attack: rental houses, the package deal. Costume manufacture.
15. ASSEMBLING THE COSTUMES	137
Organizing the stock for work.
16. FITTING THE ACTOR	141
The "Show-and-Tell"
17. AGING AND DISTRESSING	153
Techniques and supplies.
18. THE SHOOT	161
Primary objective, day-to-day operation, foreign locations.
19. TELEVISION	179
Various types of TV work.
20. THE WRAP	187
A good return, losses and damages, final accounting.
21. REFERENCE SECTION	193
List of costume houses in America and Europe.
Collection of sketches and drawings.
Examples of budget and breakdown pages.
ABOUT THE AUTHOR	200