

In this issue

Issue 220 Summer 2024

Compass

15 Editorial

Most of the editor's hopes for the Istanbul ICOC were fulfilled—and he finds plenty to be optimistic about in the world of antique carpets

27 Dialogue

Damascus tile sells above estimate at Olympia Auctions; Joseph V. McMullan Award winners 2024; Textile Society of America's 2024 Colloquium; a new dual-language Georgian tapestry catalogue and exhibition in Tbilisi; Azerbaijan National Carpet Museum's permanent home turns ten; Konya Ethnographic Museum reopens; HALI's first tour in Turkey; New carpet museum in Kerman

30 Diary

HALI's recommendations for the quarter

33 Calendar

The listings page for carpet- and textile-related auctions, exhibitions and events

34 Thread of time

A tale of two kilims

36 Travellers' tales

Roger Pratt

For the author, a HALI Tour to Spain and Portugal completed a long-term quest to trace the struggle for religious power in Iberia

42 Profile

Lucy Upward

A soon-to-be-published book encapsulates the philosophy of collectors Daniel and Dara Brewster

46 Anatomy of an object

An exceptional early 19th-century ikat poncho, with irregularly patterned watay stripes, currently on show at The Textile Museum in Washington, DC

48 Common thread

A selection of textiles that tell tales of long summer days—and the leisurely pursuits and pleasureable pastimes with which historical figures might have filled them

120

Features

52 Secrets of successful dating

Felix Elwert

How old is a Tibetan rug? The question has perplexed researchers for a long time

62 Strength to strength

Lucien de Guise

The Islamic Arts Museum in Malaysia celebrates a major anniversary

70 Uncovering connections

Lee Talbot

A privileged insight into the archives of the late Dr Gittinger, whose work is being highlighted at The Textile Museum, Washington, DC

76 Milestones on a journey

Aaron Nejad

Oxford gallery owner Christopher Legge has been prominent in the British rug trade for fifty years

84 Motivic evolution

Barbara Steinberg

The themes and variations within the motifs found on the ritual cloths of the Iban Dayak people

98

124

92

86
The shimmer of silk
 Philip K. Hu
 The history of silk in Japan at SLAM

92
The earliest-known Indonesian batik?
 Aditya Bayu Perdana, Sandra Sardjono and Christopher Buckley
 A fragment of a Southeast Asian textile exhibits many unusual features

98
Scandinavian scarcity
 Wendel Swan
 A distinctive exhibition now running in Philadelphia of early Swedish folk textiles

106
A Safavid-Qajar mix
 Michael Franses
 A review of MITA, the new carpet museum in Brescia's current display 'Persia Felix'

116
Practices to deceive
 Dominique Wyss
 Shining examples of textile trompe l'œil feature in this year's special exhibition at Abegg-Stiftung

120
Back to first principles
 Kristal Hale
 Hidden treasures from the collection go on show at the Denver Art Museum

124
Difficulties and delights
 Ben Evans
 From the wealth of impressive and desirable carpets seen at the recent Istanbul ICOC, the author focuses on several intriguing examples

Reviews

140
Book reviews
 Risha: History in a Narrow Weave reviewed by Rosemary Crill; Dress: Continuity And Change in Egypt in The 1st Millennium AD edited by Antoine De Moor, Cäcilia Fluck and Petra Linscheid, reviewed by Frances Pritchard

144
Exhibition reviews
 'Holbein. Burgkmair. Dürer. Renaissance in The North' at Städel Museum, Frankfurt and Kunsthistorisches Museum, Vienna, reviewed by Christian Erber

Marketplace

134
Fairs
 The Dealers' Fair at ICOC XV Istanbul

138
Exhibitions
 Ben Evans
 Istanbul's new Gallery Aydın is a declaration of faith in antique rugs as mainstream art

146
Auction report
 Stephanie Douglas
 Three tapestries from one of the most famous series woven by the Beauvais manufactory

148
Auction Price Guide
 International auction results of note

160
Last page
 A singular return of Parting Shots from ICOC XV in Istanbul in June

